

Hi!

We're Jess, TJ,
Hayes & Wesley

We can't wait to add a new baby to our family! We know you must have a million questions about us, so we hope this gives you a closer look at the life we've built together, who we are, and what we love to do.

Get to know Us

TJ and Jess have been together for 15 years and have lived, worked and traveled around the world finally settling in Los Angeles. We have built an amazing community here full of wonderful friends and we also love living close to three of TJ's siblings and their kids.

We love nothing more than being parents to our two girls and can't wait to add on to our crew! On any given night you can find us cooking up a feast, having a dance party and singing all around the kitchen. On weekends we hit the beach or head up to the mountains to be outdoors. We believe that children deserve a childhood full of play and fresh air!

Get to know TJ

I am the oldest of seven kids and I loved every minute of growing up with a wild and crazy large family (pictured below at my brother's wedding last year). I was raised in Virginia and spent my summers on the beach in North Carolina. I went to college in Utah where I fell in love with the mountains and snowboarding. I met Jess at my first job out of college working at the technology company Cisco where we were both in a training program together. It was love at first sight on that very first day of work and we have had a blast traveling, laughing and singing the years away. We have been married 10 years and together for 15. I love Jess because she is truly my equal, we work together, love to play sports together and most of all raise our family together.

I work in sales at a tech company and I absolutely love working with technology and feel blessed to enjoy the work that I do. In my free time whether I'm fishing, hiking or playing football with my brothers, spending time with family and being outdoors are some of the most important parts of my life.

I was born and raised in Northern California with one brother and two loving parents. I went to college in Colorado to pursue some of my favorite passions- skiing, hiking, ceramics and photography of which I studied the last two in college. Following school, I worked for a few years on an organic farm and a love was born for growing food and cooking it. I met TJ on the first day of my first corporate job and I've never looked back.

TJ is one of the most kind and compassionate people I've ever met. He's well respected at his work and amongst all of our friends. Being with him every day makes me a better person. He is the most fun and playful dad around- our friends and families kids love him as much as our own kids do. I love being a mom! Baking shark cakes for their birthdays, working on craft projects, teaching them how to ski, or just goofing around- the best moments of my life are with my kids and I would love nothing more than adding one more!

We are 6 and 3! We love to play outside, swim, explore parks, museums and new places. We love singing, putting on shows, eating ice cream and playing with our dogs Jackson and Midas. At home we love to play baseball in the driveway, make forts, jump around our bunk beds and have tickle fights. We can't wait to have another baby to snuggle and play with!
